

Update from CEO:

HOUSTON, TX, September 21, 2023 - As we are getting closer to making our first acquisition, I would like to share some of the company's strategies:

Pursue multiple acquisition targets. So far we have identified and have begun negotiations with several entities that fit directly into our business model. That is, undervalued producing properties with upside potential.

Continue to leverage our expertise in the industry. Our unique ability to improve the oil production of any property we acquire rests in the hands of a dedicated team of highly skilled individuals, all veterans in the oil industry. Our ability to access this expertise is crucial to our success.

The company's uplisting to a higher tier on the OTC. Once we have reached our initial targets in terms of acquisitions and revenue, we will start things in motion to accomplish this effort.
